LEE'S WHEREABOUTS SEEMS A MYSTERY.

Brother Declares When Last Heard From He Was Near San Francisco.

EXPECTED BACK ABOUT JULY 1.

Feared That if Former Lieutenant Governor Does Not soon Return Cases Against Indicted Will Be Weakened.

Where is John A. Lee, and when is he oming back to St. Louis?

Circuit Attorney Folk expected him here Wednesday, but was informed by Robert E. Lee that he would not return for a day or so. Afterwards Robert E. Lee said that he expected his brother back "before July 1." John A. Lee has been out of the city about five weeks, seeking relief from a threatened physical breakdown. He was accompanied by his wife, and it was reported that he had gone for a visit to his sister in Chicago. Afterwards, it was stated that he had left there for a stay at a resort not far distant from the Lake City.

According to Robert E. Lee, he is now somewhere near San Francisco, just where he does not know.

"I received a letter from John yesterday which was mailed from San Francisco about a week before," said Mr. Lee.

"The letter was delayed by the floods. I do not remember the hotel where he was stopping. He was there only about twentyfour hours. He wrote that he and Mrs. Lee were going to some springs, I do not know their name, about thirty-five or forty miles from San Francisco, to spend a few days. I suppose he will be passing through San Francisco in a few days on his way back. I suppose that some of the men against whom he has given testimony wish that he never would come back, but I know that he The testimony of John A. Lee is the most mportant in cases against D. J. Kelley, legislative agent of the Baking-Powder Trust, and Senators Farr's of Steelville, Matthews of Clayton and Smith of St. Louis, all of whom are charged with bribery.

If the former Lieutenant Governor fails to return, the cases against these men will be very weak, and it is doubtful if they can be prosecuted at all. In a statement made to Attorney General Crow he said that he received $10,000 from D. J. Kelley, which he distributed to State Senators two years ago. A few weeks after the Cole County Grand Jury Investigation was started he turned a check for $1,000, signed by Kelley's name, over to the Attorney General. This check is now in the possession of Circuit Attorney Folk. If the former Lieutenant Governor fails to Former Recorder Hahn stated to Circuit Attorney Folk that he understood that about $1,000 was used for this purpose. It is said that Smith declared the money was spent legitimately in entertainment of the members of the General Assembly.

Another witness before the Grand Jury was Representative J. S. Rubottom of Carter County. Mr. Rubottom was supposed to know something of slot-machine legislation, but it is thought he proved a poer witness on this subject, as he knew practically nothing about the matter.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

Buying in London Causes Recovery on This Side as Violent as Preceding Decline.

Change in Market Ascribed to the Opinion of Capitalists That Prices Had Reached a Bargain Basis.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

New York, June 11.-This morning's stock market underwent an extraordinary change with an advance in prices as violent as yes terday's decline, and beginning, like yester day's break, in the early London market. This buying in London raised prices above esterday's New York closing before the market here opened, Atchison, B. & O. & O., Canadian Pacific, Denver, Erie Kansas and Texas, Norfolk and Western Southern Pacific and Union Pacific were all selling in London a point or more above our prices when Wall street came down to

How excited the local opening was may be judged from the following typical transactions at the start: St. Paul, which closed resterday at 147%, opened at 149%, immeliately after which a block of 2,000 shares was taken at 150. Atchison closed yesterday at 64. At the opening to-day 500 shares were bought at 65½, then 9,000 at 65½, and 1,000 more at Of Eric shares, 6,000 were simultaneous':

Of Erie shares, 6,000 were simultaneous'y bought between 25's and 20'a, though the stock closed yesterday at 29. After this sudden and violent recovery the upward movement became less aggressive, but there was no return of weakness. Wall street was inclined to ascribe the advance to the decision over night by capitalists here and in London that the stock market here had got down to a "bargain basis."

With some irregularity the advancing movement lasted throughout the day. Trading in the afternoon was very large, though the day's business as a whole was much below yesterday. At that time there were signs of some very active buying by professional operators, who had "sold short" earlier in the week.

Several large banking interests reported to-day that they had received large orders from customers to buy the best dividend-paying stocks. One of the largest Wall street banks sent in single orders for 160 and 1,000, and 5,000 share lots. The banker in charge of the transactions declared that they represented livestment buying by people who had not been attracted to the market until yesterday.

While the large bankers downtown admitted that they could not tell whether the London movement in our stocks was occusioned by real investment buying or by orders sent over from Wall street speculators with the intention of making it seem that the operation was inaugurated by legitimate investors.

stocks, the consensus of opinion seemed to be that the operation was inaugurated by legitimate investors.

In banking circles to-day it was declared that no concerted movement had been undertaken by important interests last evening with the intention of supporting the market to-day.

One feature of to-day's demand was the buying by institutions. While these transactions did not assume the proportion of any general movement, orders sent in by institutions were sufficient to absorb several thousands shares of the very best stocks.

crai thousands shares of the very best stocks.

Genuine investment buying by Berlin, Frankfort, London and Paris interests was, it was learned in response to reassuring cables sent out last night. The highest prices of the day were made when the market was approaching the close. Then the contest between the buil and the bear element was at its height.

Throughout the session the buils had been bidding up prices against the faction which has had the market in its control during the past two months. This resulted in some heavy advances.

WOMEN BURLESQUE FUTURE UNITED STATES SENATE.

Mirrors and Powder Puffs Much in Evidence During Deliberations of Mock Legislative Body.

The United States Senate as it may ap pear in 1995, if women are given the right of suffrage, was represented by several mbers of the junior Bible class of Compton Heights Christian Church in a play entitled "The New Woman," given in Anchor Hall last night.

The mock legislative body and its officers were composed entirely of women. Wearing frock coats and high hats, the nembers sat at their desks, and instead of cocking their feet in the air, paid much attention to hand mirrors and powder puffs.

The bill for consideration was one restorng to men the right to vote and hold office, they being supposed to have been disenfranchised. The bill was defeated,

The debate was exciting and the president had great difficulty in conducting the ses-sion in accordance with parliamentary rules. When the discussion was at its height, sev-eral speakers induiged in harsh personalrai speakers indulged in harsh personal-ties, and tears insteady of challenges fol-

A fictitious mouse wandered into the chamber, and, instead of speaking from the floor, the Senators allowed their eloquence to flow from the tops of desks.

The only man appearing on the floor was the husband of one of the Senators, who dashed into the room with an infant under his arm and sought the advice of his wite as to how large a dose of paregoric should be administered to the unfortunate child.

Members of the class who augeared in the entertainment were Mrs. Neale Walling, the Misses Mabel Meads, Maud Updike, Kate Henry, Margaret Franklin, Laura Bencini, Rose Humphrey, Margaret Teas, Elia Mayers, Francis Funk, Jessie Raub, Nellie Raub, Edith Woods, Mae Beeson, Maud Napier, Edna Franklin, Ida Windstram, Fannie Cunningham, Ethel Hopkins, Madeline Teas, Mattle Shelton and Fred Henry J.
